TEN YEARS.

Those first ten years began with a boldly focused vision: build premium, hard-use knives that would be unmatched in quality and performance.

Simple? Hardly. Because we also challenged ourselves to use new materials, techniques, and technologies that were rarely found in production knifemaking. It was a risk. But that's what makes life exciting.

Many of you got excited, too. You paid our products compliments, calling them "real beasts" and "overbuilt." Better yet, you bought them. Even more important, you used them—taking them into the field with you or making them your trusted EDC.

Now we're readying for the next ten years.

New materials are inspiring new designs. Your response to our products is telling us what you want. And we are building it. There are fewer military-style knives, though ZT will always support those who serve. But we now offer more refined models as well, EDC-perfect and even suit-worthy. And every one of them continues to be proudly overbuilt.

Here's to the next ten years—and the next challenge.

DESIGN WITH PURPOSE

In ZT-world, we believe that design has a specific purpose. Always. The purpose is function. Always. So we pay attention to the ergos. Our designers bring real-world experience to their designs. Because we believe a knife shouldn't just be pocket jewelry. A knife is a tool. It's meant to be used. And if it happens to look particularly incredible while doing it, that's no accident either.

WE SWEAT THE DETAILS

We believe the details of a knife deserve as much attention as its overall concept. So we make sure we leave no opportunity for precision go untaken. Pocketclips, for instance. Many ZTs feature custom clips, designed and built just for that particular knife. Hardware, like pivots and tube spacers, are top-of-the-line or custom. Then there's the "fit and finish"—how the pieces of the knife fit together with precision. When you hold a knife with excellent fit and finish, you know it. And if you look at the brand, it's going to be a ZT.

"Virtue is bold, and goodness never fearful."

0350

How many 0350s can a guy reasonably own? As many as it takes. This perfect knife comes in many variations because you asked for it. BlackWash? Yes. Stonewashed blade? Yes. Serrated and plain edge? Yes and yes. Each 0350 features a razor-sharp blade of S30V stainless steel for extreme durability, corrosion resistance, and wear resistance. SpeedSafe assisted opening and the 0350's built-in flipper make it fast and easy to open—even one-handed, even in work gloves. Blade lock up is secure thanks to a sturdy locking liner. Carrying the 0350 is versatile, too. With ZT's quad-mount system, you can carry tip-up, tip-down, left- or right-handed. It's your 0350, your way, your choice.

You can see it in the curved index finger contour, the machined scoops at mid-handle, and the deep arc leading to the blade tip. G-10 handle scales reduce weight and increase gripping surface. ## [ 0562 ]

So maybe you don't spend all your free time in the woods. Maybe the city is your kind of adventure. Then maybe this is the ZT for you. It's got the Rick Hinderer custom "slicer" grind to easily take on any cutting task. It's got a high-performance S35VN or CTS-204P powdered steel blade and a carbon fiber or G-10 front scale that not only helps reduce the knife's weight in your pocket, but looks good doing it. Opening is simple and easy with our ultra-smooth KVT ball-bearing opening system. To ensure secure use, we built it with a frame lock with hardened steel lockbar insert and lockbar stabilization. The unique pocketclip is reversible and enables extra-deep carry. And, of course, it's got ZT's famous overbuilt construction.

PREMIUM MATERIALS

Premium materials define ZT. We don't do cheap. You shouldn't either. For the all-important blade, we turn to high-performance steels like CTS-204P, S30V, and S35VN. For handles, it's titanium, G-10, and carbon fiber. Top-shelf materials like these, combined with ZT's precision fit and finish, have helped us cement our overbuilt reputation.

[ 0620 ]

Living ready is what you do. No excuses necessary, none given. The 0620 and 0620CF, from Zero Tolerance and Emerson, were born ready. Thanks to the famous Emerson “wave shaped opening feature,” they even come out of your pocket ready. The “wave shaped feature” is designed so that as you withdraw the knife from your pocket, the curved wave hooks on the edge of your pocket and pulls the blade open. Once fully withdrawn, it’s fully ready for use. The blade is a modified tanto style that locks securely into place with a frame lock with hardened steel insert. Choose coated or uncoated blade, G-10 or carbon fiber front scale.

- INCLUDES BELT SHEATH

The 0180 is ready to serve and protect. Based on Rick Hinderer's Fieldtac knife, this is a smaller and lighter fixed blade, yet it's built to handle whatever tough duty comes your way. Its blade is built of Vanadis 4 Extra powdered metallurgy steel, a tough tool steel perfectly designed for hard use. The 0180's handle scales are lightweight, durable G-10. Complete with a belt sheath designed for tip-down carry, it comes ready to serve.

With its nearly 4-inch blade, this new ZT is big, businesslike, and yes, even bold. It's also a handsome piece of design work from Todd Rexford, based on his Gamma, and a solid piece of engineering from Zero Tolerance. The blade is CTS-204P, DLC coated for a matte finish. But check out the details: a special USA pivot head, a unique treatment of the carbon-fiber scale, and a custom aluminum backspacer. Even the clip is special; custom machined from titanium and DLC coated to match the backspacer.

- CARBIDE GLASS BREAKER
- MACHINED PEN BARREL

Success is drive, ambition, and the stubborn refusal to give up or give in. That's why our new 0010 Tactical Pens succeed. We kept at it until they were ZT worthy. The pen barrel is heavy-duty spiral-fluted aluminum. Then, because you're the one who always expects the unexpected, we built a lifesaving carbide glassbreaker into the tip. The 0010 also succeeds as a superb writing instrument. With its Rite in the Rain® cartridge, it works fearlessly in any weather. The custom-machined clip is a handsome final touch.

STEEL CHART

Crucible CPM S30V

All-around premium knife steel that takes and holds an edge extremely well; also extremely tough and wear resistant.

CTS-204P

This powder metallurgy steel is highly wear and corrosion resistant thanks to high vanadium and chromium in the alloy. The powdered steel-making process results in fine-grained steel that is cleaner and tougher than conventionally produced steel. The blend is highly corrosion resistant and can be easily polished. Carpenter® made this steel specifically for high-performance applications, including custom knives.

Crucible CPM S35VN

A stainless steel that offers enhanced toughness over S30V without loss of wear resistance. In knife blades, S35VN resists edge chipping and provides excellent edge retention.

Uddeholm Vanadis 4 Extra

This super-clean, powdered tool steel offers an excellent combination of wear resistance and strength. It is very tough, impact and shock resistant and is an excellent steel for hard-use applications. Since this steel is non-stainless, ZT adds coating for extra protection.

Boldness makes its own choices.

It has no truck with timidity.

Boldness is its own Magellan. It craves experience, lives life on its own terms, and seeks the company of like-minded adventurers. Boldness embraces the new. It refuses to fear what the world may say. Or think. Or dish out.

Boldness is resourceful. Boldness is practical. Boldness is strong. Boldness can be built for hard use. On the other hand, boldness can have the style of a gentleman. It would be something of an understatement to say that boldness has attitude. Boldness is decidedly alpha.

Boldness finds its ideal mate in authenticity. It values intense craftsmanship. It values advanced technology. Boldness knows that form matters, but that function matters more.

Boldness has zero tolerance for anything less than the very best.
